SelfPortrait Dasha Morozova

"Well,

Some words about me... it's such difficult.

I don't know what I really love more: ocean, mountains or sense of velocity, flight in my dreams?

But there are a lot of things that I do hate: wars, famine, suffering of helpless kids and mankind as a main parasite of the earth.

But I wanna try to make it a little bit better. Let it be a milk for homeless kitty or one dollar for beggar or 400 ml of blood for patient.

I wanna world to present me a light smile for it and that's enough. So, why don't try to make it a little shiny and kind?

I'm in the search, still in the search on myself. I don't know, who am I and what am I for. But I do keep searching till the end of my days. I'll try to find out. Maybe truth is in the dust on my old boots and I keep going, keep travelling.
